

WalkOn Tile Introduces “The Wave”

08/02/2010

WalkOn Tile® announces the addition of “The Wave” to its designer porcelain tile collection.

Los Angeles, CA United States – WalkOn Tile offering the very best in Modern/ Contemporary tile including ceramic, deco, handmade, glass, eco-friendly, porcelain, and natural stone, introduces the Wave porcelain tile.

The Wave is a through-body porcelain tile available in size 24” x 24”, and in three timeless colors: white, grey and black. This mixed finish tile offers a combination of both a carved organic texture and a luminous glossy pattern. An installation of this tile makes an elegant statement that will please even the most discriminating eye.

The Wave tile is versatile with a warm modern presence that makes it an all-in-one catch for an array of applications, including unforgettable kitchens, stunning baths, alluring hotel settings, and eye-catching commercial spaces. An upcoming project that will feature this tile is the Imperial Hotel near the Lincoln Center in New York City. Overall, “The Wave” tile is a true visual delight!

Founded in 2002, WalkOn Tile is a working design showroom where clients find their “inner artist” through experiencing exceptionally high-end materials in person. WalkOn Tile regularly designs and produces its very own unique tile lines. As a direct importer and distributor of tile, WalkOn Tile is able to satisfy the needs of all clients, from homeowners, designers and architects to residential and commercial developers.
